The 4th National Conference on

Delivering Diplomas: Engagement and collaboration

'Delivering Diplomas: Engagement and collaboration' takes place a week after the publication of the inaugural edition of Delivering Diplomas magazine. This conference offers crucial, practical advice to all those involved in the 14-19 Diploma.

This is the fourth Delivering Diplomas event and will offer key information not just for secondary educators, but also for Diploma deliverers in further education and for the employers involved with Diplomas. Anyone involved with a Diploma delivery consortium, or anyone wanting to get involved will benefit from attendance at this event.

The event will also offer practical advice from practising heads, teachers and employers, in a workshop-style format, allowing delegates to find the exact answers to their queries in an informal setting.

There will be keynote speakers from FE, secondary, employers and the QCA as well as a group of first year Diploma students from Hanham High School, Bristol, showcasing and discussing their work.

The workshops will offer advice from phase 1 and 2 Sector Skills Councils, gateway guidance, information for exam officers and from exam boards, a focus on secondary and FE collaboration, and a focus on employers.

Objectives

The 4th National Delivering Diplomas conference will offer delegates:

- One-on-one access through carousel workshops to experts from each of the 10 Sector Skills Councils involved in phase 1 and 2 delivery.
- The chance to quiz practising teachers and heads from Diploma delivering schools and colleges, as well as employers who are involved in phases 1 and 2.
- The latest policy updates from the DCSF and the QCA with access to experts from the Specialist Schools and Academies Trust.
- An excellent chance for networking with fellow Diploma Deliverers and to discover solutions which have worked elsewhere that you can take away and implement immediately.
- Access to pre and post conference support through SecEd and Delivering Diplomas
- Gateway advice for consortia preparing to go through this process
- The chance to showcase your consortium's work in the March 2010 edition of Delivering Diplomas magazine

Who should attend?

Delegates will have the chance to quiz expert representatives from the 10 Sector Skills Councils involved in phases 1 and 2 of Diploma Delivery. Split by phase into two workshops, delegates will be free to ask questions regarding any aspect of delivery and will be able to drop into both workshops if desired. This session will provide a great networking opportunity and the chance to speak to the experts behind the first 10 Diploma lines.

Phase 1 Diploma Delivery

1: Creative and media

2: Society, health and development

3: Construction and the built environment

4: Information technology

5: Engineering

Phase 2 Diploma Delivery

1: Business, administration and finance

2: Hair and beauty studies

3: Manufacturing & product design

4: Environmental and land-based studies

5: Hospitality

Delivering Diplomas: Engagement and collaboration

14.30 – 15.00 Refreshments and exhibition viewing

15.00 – 16.00 WORKSHOPS: Engagement and collaboration

This hour-long session offers delegates a choice of four workshops to choose from. Delegates will have the choice to attend more than one workshop during the hour.

A: Secondary and FE collaboration

An expert panel including secondary heads, FE lecturers and principals, Diploma students and QCA representatives will host an informal discussion sharing best practice and guidance on how to collaborate effectively between secondary and further education.

B: Employer collaboration

This panel will consist of employers, both large and small, who are already involved in Diploma delivery. Also on the panel will be secondary and FE practitioners, QCA experts and a Diploma student. This workshop will be ideal for both employer and teacher delegates who want to find out more about how schools and colleges can best engage with employers and vice versa.

C: Gateway success

A panel featuring Helen Brookes from the DCSF 14-19 Consortia Delivery Unit and Duncan Ainge from Barking College, who has garnered considerable expertise in the gateway process over the past 18 months, as well as other Diploma deliverers, will offer practical guidance on how to successfully negotiate the gateway process.

D: Exam boards and exam officers: Assuring awarding happens

With so many different components coming together to create the overall Diploma qualification, many centres are still unclear as to how assessment fits into this complicated process. Examination experts from the QCA, the Chartered Institute for Exam Assessors and all of the main exam boards will discuss the practical requirements of the Diploma when it comes to assessment and awarding.

16.00 – 16.30 Drawing together and closing remarks

CAR PARK RE-DEVELOPMENT FROM JANUARY 2008

Due to a new student residences project, the university car parks will be unavailable until Autumn 2010. These building works will not take place near Aston Business School Conference Centre and the only disruption caused will be to the car parking available on site. Events taking place at the venue will not be affected by the noise from these works. There are pay & display car parks close to the venue, but we would highly recommend the use of public transport during this period. Information for which is provided below.

Rail Links: New Street/Snow Hill/Moor Street train stations are all within 20 minutes walk of the venue or a 5 minute taxi ride. Please visit www.thetrainline.com to find appropriate routes into Birmingham Stations.

Bus Routes: A number of bus services operate to the University Campus throughout the day. Please visit www.travelwm.co.uk/ bus where a route planner is available.
